

Subattitude

Docu-magazine (Lifestyle)
(5 x 08:00)

'Subattitude' is a weekly magazine; portrait of a woman who evolved in the urban scene and shows us her city through the discipline she practices. She explains her background and her passion for the city and the urban space. A new vision on the cities of the world. For a long time, the 'street' was considered as a dangerous play-ground where girls were very often excluded. Either in the hip hop scene, sport environment and ever specific professions. Today, one finally sees appearing young women who through hard work and perseverance offer a new approach of their discipline. They contribute to the promotion of a scene often stigmatized rejected.
